Case Study - Exxon Safety & Sharing

- ▶ This project followed a complete UX / Design process which included research, wires & visual design then testing
- ▶ Exxon has hours of safety information available to users, the question was; how do we create a unified system to improve the safety at Exxon sites?
- ▶ Final application needed to be usable in outside environments, so lighting was a large factor
- ▶ Current safety system existed across multiple platforms and there was no way to track who consumed what information

Exxon - Safety & Sharing Visual Designs

Exxon - Office & Field Safety

Responsive design for employees at Exxon. The managers and safety specialist could tag videos to anybody with an Exxon email address. That video would then be required for viewing during their morning safety meetings. The application, also needed a CMS system to connect with desperate system that contained other safety information for consumption.

Exxon - Safety & Sharing CMS Portal

Exxon - Back Office

While not responsive, the backend system was accessed by employees that were provided company laptops, so responsive was an added cost that had little ROI. The system allowed those employees to upload or connect to other systems to provide safety documents or videos to Exxon employees.

Exxon - Mobile Breakpoint - Wireframes

2.0.0. Safety Minute : iPhone : Landing

2.0.2.

- 1 Hamburger Nav
Expands left handed navigation view on X.XX.
- 2 Safety Minute Logo
When a user is assigned a video to watch, a notification is displayed on the top right of the logo with a dynamic number of unwatched videos that have been assigned. Anything over 9 should be displayed as 9+.
- 3 Search Field
Prominent search field offers easy access to specific content.
- 4 Featured Content Title
Title overlays black 50% transparent bar.
- 5 Featured Content
Featured content timeframe is controlled by the CMS and always appears above the categories.
- 6 Category
Category section is displayed by static responsive image.
- 7 Category Menu Button
Black transparent overlays the screen, categories list rises from the top. The button transforms into an X to close the list.
- 8 Favorited Category
Staring a category will bring that category to the top of the category section.
- 9 Categories
Determined by the office | field selection in the CMS.
- 10 Categories Menu Close
Closes the category list and leaves the user on their last visited page.

Analytic Dashboards

Case Study - Anheuser Bush

---

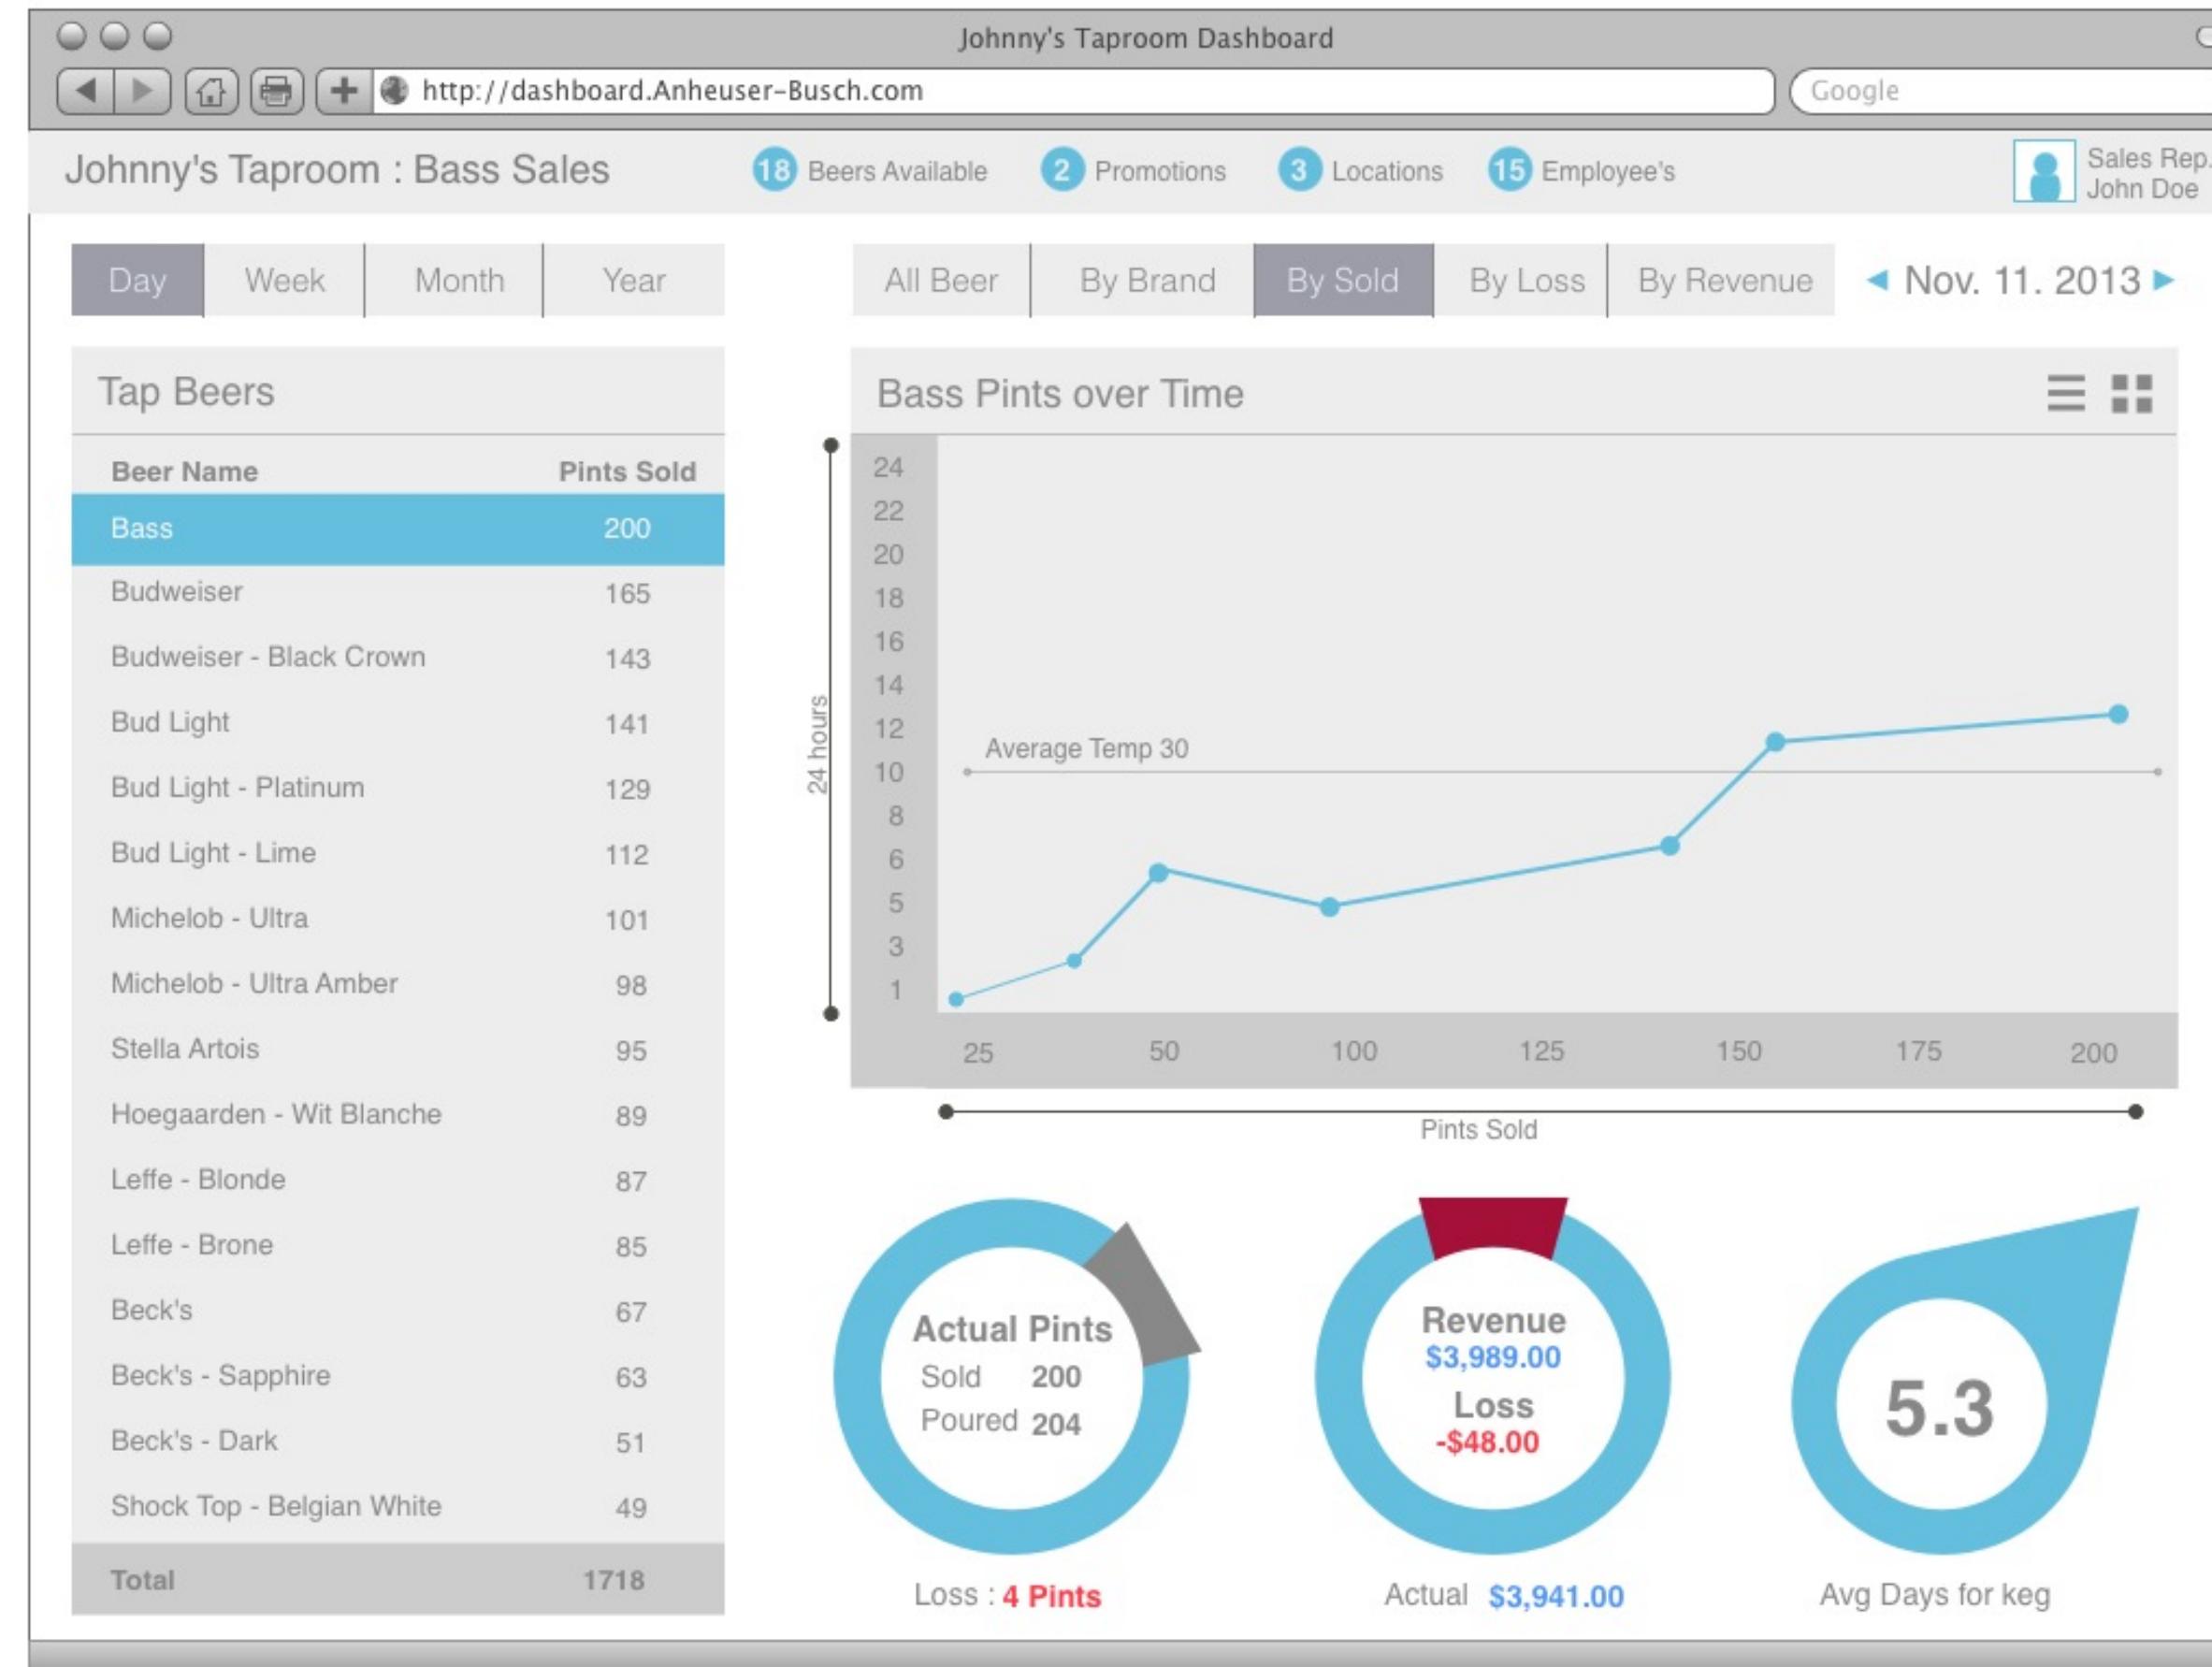

- ▶ Create concept for individual bars and breweries that display sales over time and draft temps
- ▶ A special tap being developed measured temperatures and flow against the POS for sales.
- ▶ Owners could create projects or “promotions” to promote any beer they have on hand and measure the ROI of a promotion

Dashboard - Anheuser Busch

Anheuser-Busch :: Flow Meter Dashboard

Dashboard Filtered By Beer Name

Day View / Bass Beer

Presentation Creator

The initial view for creating a presentation will be a list or grid view of the projects the current user has access to. The most recent projects are listed first by date. An image of the project is loaded along with other project information the user gathered during their assessment phase for creating a presentation. At a glance the user should be provided with enough information to find the project they want to begin creating a presentation for.

1. Project Options

- 1.1 Add and Search projects are available for users to quickly add or find projects they currently are creating, editing or viewing. The user may also change the view from grid to list from the right corner to change the display of projects. User information is displayed on the top right.

2. Current Projects

- 2.1 Within this area a user will see all of the current projects available. The data gathered from the assessment will be populated from the cloud storage and displayed. At a glance the user will see an image of the project facility, # of rooms, # of images, # of tagged items, # of safety issues, # of brand image issues and # of products.
- 2.2 The project name, address, date and any relevant project notes will be available to help the user find their projects easily.
- 2.3 View button provides the user a larger view of the project. Additional information will be displayed to help the user find the correct project.
- 2.4 Create button navigates the user to the Initial Slide Creation and begin the flow for creating a presentation deck.

3. Past Projects

- 3.1 Allow the user to view completed projects. These can still be edited and used for other projects or simply be exported again.

Its early and early morning and John has a pretty busy schedule today. John opens his eyes and the bedroom slowly illuminates to a soft and radiant yellow as his alarm begins to sound.

- Set and control lighting with calendar integration, alarms and other connected tools.

As John walks from room to room the lighting adjusts color, hue and brightness as he enters.

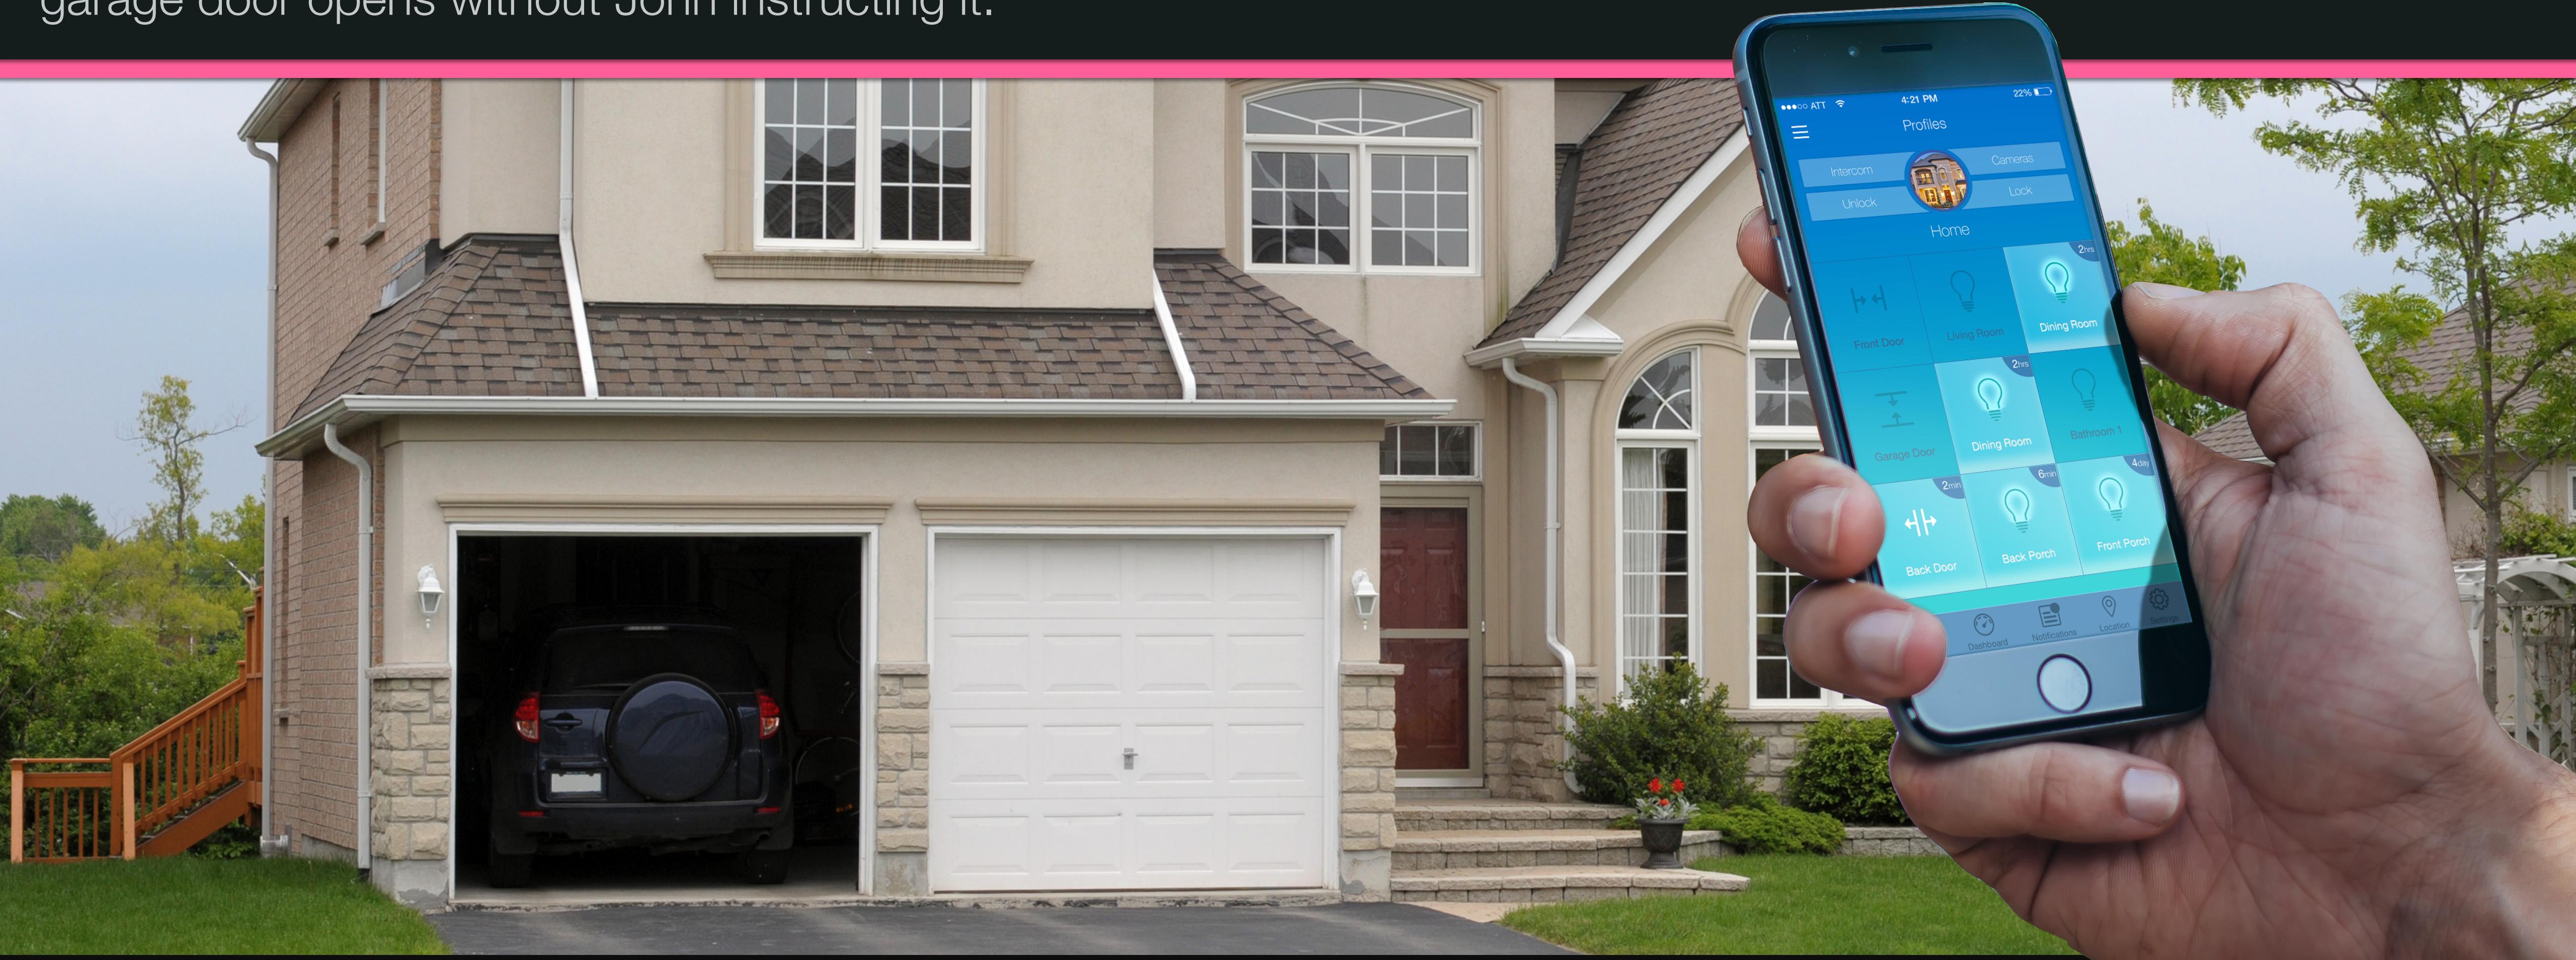

- Rooms adjust : Preferences, lighting, ambient noise, and connected electronics can be automated.

John is in the office today working when he sees a notification appear on his phone. “Motion detected in the living room!”

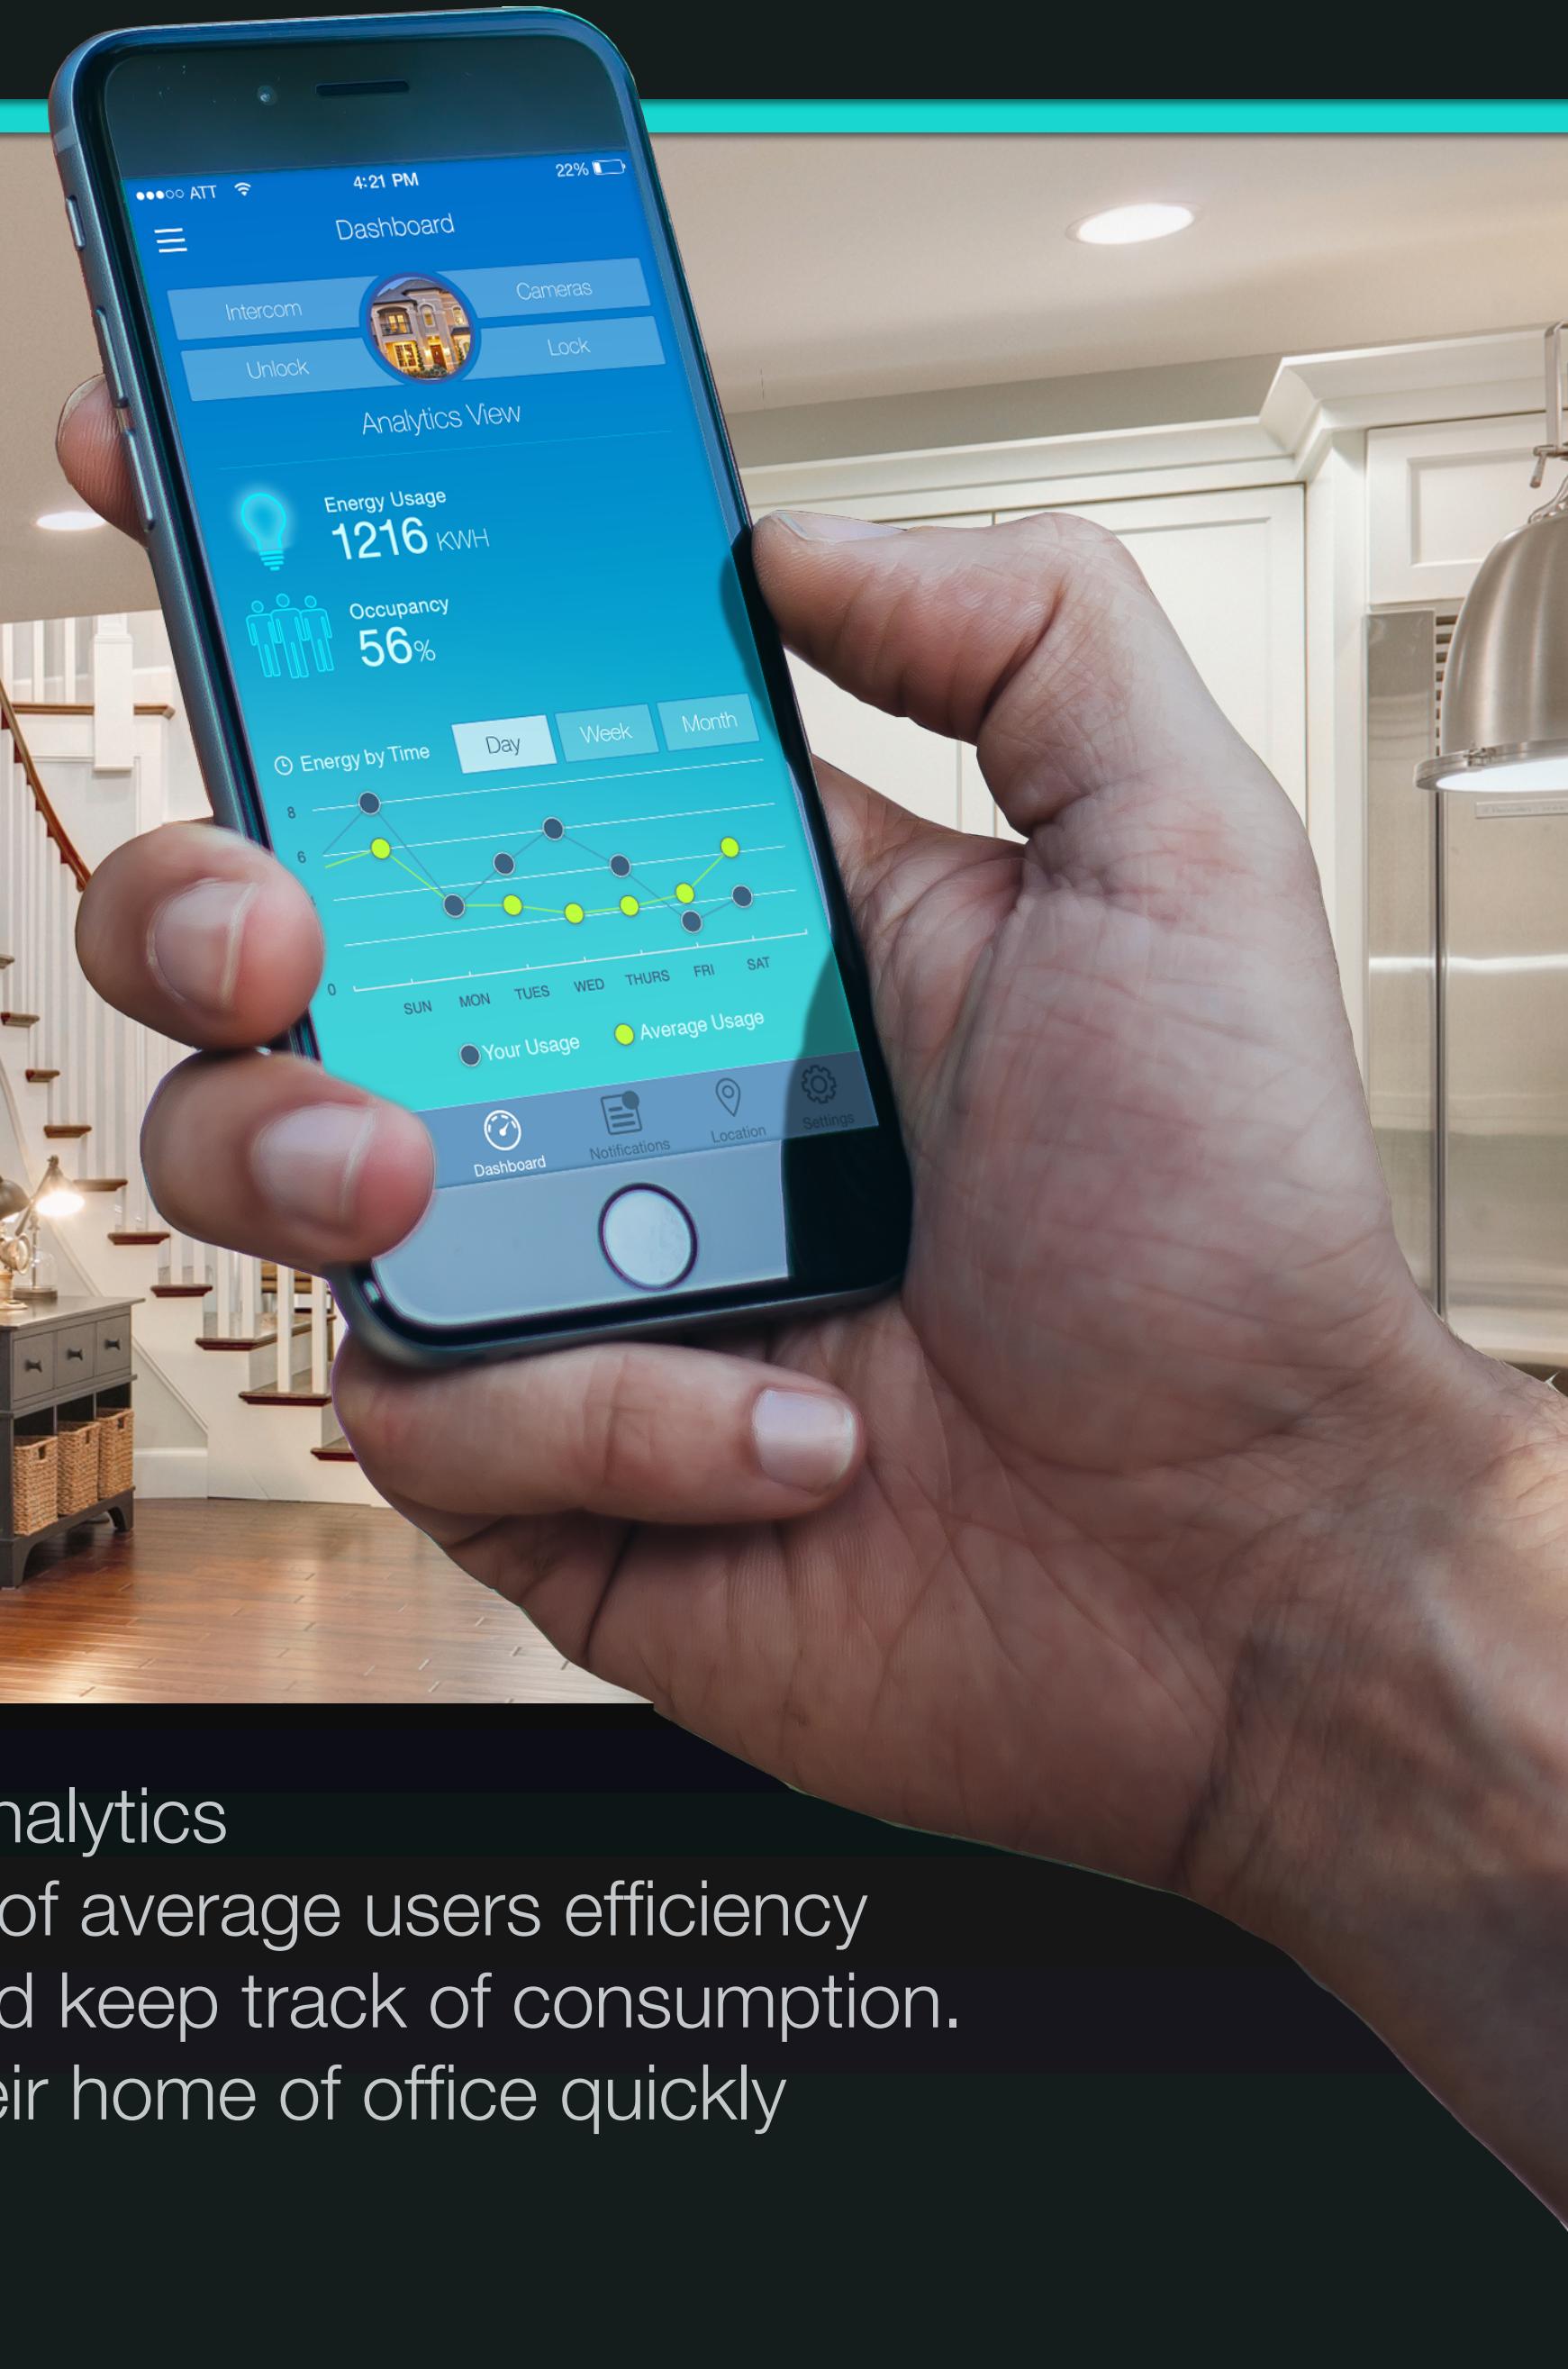

- Keep users updated to things happening at home, while away.

After a long day at the office, John hops in his car and makes the short drive home. As he pulls up to his house the garage door opens without John instructing it.

- Smart application recognizes users and unlocks or opens the appropriate doors and activates lights
- Remote door control and lighting provide control from anywhere
- Informative display to show how long a door or light have been active
- Applications background is designed to show lighting preferences by user. In this case the users lighting profile is blue
- Header navigation is persistent to give access to the most common controls any time

Curious about energy usage, John opens the “Dashboard” to find a simplified view of his families energy consumption.

- Dashboard displays cumulative energy usage and occupancy over time in quick view analytics
- Data Visualizations detail usage patterns by day, month and year with comparative line of average users efficiency
- Profile data of home specifications and energy consumption are shared to the cloud and keep track of consumption.
- Shared data can provide users the ability to incorporate an energy efficient profile to their home or office quickly
- “Other Users” view of analytics can help create or control energy usage
- Alerts can be customized to display when an event or condition is met

Promote eco-friendly behavior

- Set goals to achieve target lighting and utility usage
- Get notifications to affect action
- Receive badges and gamify energy saving trends
